Item 4 Advisory Business

Lawrence Wealth Management LLC (LWM) is a state-registered Registered Investment Advisory (RIA) Firm regulated by the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies Division of Securities and is registered with the Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities. LWM was founded by Richard S. Lawrence in June 2008 as a "fee-only" investment advisory firm. Richard Lawrence is the sole owner of LWM. Services include financial planning, investment management and includes the management of defined contribution plans for small businesses. LWM does not provide management services to wrap programs.

LWM issues newsletters, educational reports and conduct seminars periodically. LWM does not charge any fees for any of the activities.

Investment Advisory Services

LWM provides investment management services on a discretionary and non-discretionary basis.

Our investment advisory process includes financial planning, investment management, and periodic reviews.

- Upon request we prepare a detailed financial plan that takes into consideration all income, savings, goals (retirement, college funding, charitable giving, the purchase of a boat or second home, investments, pensions, tax rates, inflation assumptions, and risk levels. We then apply different rates of return assumptions to determine rates of return necessary to achieve client goals.
- The client's Investment Portfolio is then constructed. We use mutual funds, exchange traded funds, bonds, money market funds, and individual stocks when appropriate.
- We tailor client portfolios based on the clients' needs and goals. We discuss risk tolerance, cash needs and stock market exposure goals with the client before we recommend an investment strategy and portfolio recommendation.
- We accept client restrictions as long as these restrictions would not impede the prospect of attaining client goals.

LWM manages $31,492,705 on a discretionary basis and $9,300,317 on a non-discretionary basis, with a total of $40,792,742 million assets under management as of December 31, 2019.

Lawrence Wealth Management LLC

Effective June 1, 2016 LWM engaged Baldwin Investment Management “Baldwin” to provide operational and investment research support, and office space. Effective October 1, 2018 LWM and Baldwin modified their financial arrangement whereby LWM pays monthly Baldwin Management a “base fee” for specific consulting and support services; and hourly charges for additional services when provided.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Investment Advisory Fees

LWM charges a fee based on a percentage of assets under management. LWM bills fees in advance on a monthly basis, which are based on the clients' assets under management as of the last trading day of the previous month. These fees are³ deducted from the client(s) custodial accounts at Charles Schwab & Co. Inc. “Schwab” and remitted to LWM’s business account at Schwab. The monthly fee is disclosed on the monthly Schwab statement. LWM delivers to client a copy of the monthly fee invoice.

If the LWM-client relationship is terminated, LWM will rebate to the client fees that have been paid in advance on a prorate basis, based on the number of days remaining in the month of termination. LWM will issue the rebate to the client within 10 business days of termination.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees And Side-By-Side Management

LWM does not charge a performance-based fee.

Item 7 Types of Clients

LWM serves various clients including individuals, families, trusts, and partnerships. LWM has a minimum account size of $1,000,000 and may waive this requirement on an exception basis. We aggregate client accounts to meet this minimum.

Item 8 Method of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Rick of Loss

LWM embraces the academic studies which conclude that asset allocation is the primary determinant of portfolio risk and return. Asset allocation is the portion of a portfolio that is invested in stocks/equity, bonds or cash equivalent investments. Stock selection, while important, has less of an effect on overall performance than asset allocation in a well- diversified portfolio. Stocks within the same class or economic sector are highly correlated with each other, meaning that their prices tend to move in the same direction.

In order to establish an investment strategy for a client we begin with a detailed discussion or prepare a comprehensive financial plan. This initial phase makes clear the clients near term cash needs, risk tolerance, and various financial goals including, but not limited to, college funding, retirement funding, a second home purchase. Once this initial phase is complete, we recommend and require client approval of an asset allocation strategy.

Equity Allocation – We recommend clients invest in the stock market with a time horizon of at least three to five years. Once a percentage allocation is established, we recommend well diversified mutual funds, exchange traded funds “ETFs” and stock portfolios. We use low cost index ETFs when an actively managed fund does not provide a risk/return profile better than its comparable index.

Fixed Income Allocation – We typically recommend investment grade corporate and U.S. treasury bonds with maturities of 10 years or less. On occasion we use bond mutual funds or ETFs.

Cash and Money Market Funds – We advise clients to maintain cash and money market funds for unforeseen emergencies and cash needs.

Cash Flow Needs for Ensuing Three-to-Five Years – We recommend that client cash needs are funded with cash, money markets, and bonds maturing within five years.

RISKS

Market Risk — Various economic and market events cause capital markets (stocks, bonds, money markets among other financial instruments) to rise and fall. There is no assurance or guarantee that clients will make a profit investing in capital markets. The value of capital market investments may be less than the client’s initial investments and therefore would lose money.

Foreign Securities and Currency Risk — Investments in international and emerging-market securities include exposure to risks such as currency fluctuations, foreign taxes and regulations, and the potential for illiquid markets and political instability.

Small Capitalization Risk — Small companies’ stocks “small cap stocks” have greater risk and potential volatility than larger company stocks. These small cap stocks, while having greater potential returns, are less diversified and their access to capital is more limited than larger companies.

Interest Rate Risk — Bond and stock values tend to be inversely related to interest rates. As interest rates rise, stocks and bonds typically decline.

Credit Risk — Credit risk is the risk that the issuer of a security may be unable to make interest payments and/or repay principal when due. A downgrade to an issuer’s credit rating or a perceived change in an issuer’s financial strength may affect a security’s value and, thus, impact the fund’s performance.

Securities Lending Risk — Securities lending involves the risk that the fund loses money because the borrower fails to return the securities in a timely manner or at all. The fund could also lose money if the value of the collateral provided for loaned securities, or the value of the investments made with the cash collateral, falls. These events could also trigger adverse tax consequences for the fund.

Exchange-Traded Funds —ETFs facing market related risks. These funds trade in the secondary market and may trade at a discount or a premium to their ‘net asset values’. When market declines and disruptions occur, these events could materially interfere with the creation/redemption process of the ETF.

Mutual Funds — Mutual funds are commingled funds and invested according to the funds’ investment objective. There is no assurance that these objectives will be met in the future. When markets decline rapidly mutual fund investors may sell or redeem shares rapidly, forcing the mutual fund to sell securities to raise cash to meet these redemptions. This is a specific risk to mutual funds.

Lawrence Wealth Management LLC

Liquidity Risk - Liquidity risk exists when investments would be difficult to purchase or sell, possibly preventing clients from selling such securities at an advantageous time or price.

Past performance is not an indicator of future results. Clients may lose money when investing in various capital market investment instruments including, but not limited to, bonds, stocks, mutual funds, and/or exchange traded funds.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

There are no disciplinary or legal events related to Lawrence Wealth Management LLC or its management.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

IA engages in no other financial industry activities or affiliations

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics:

1. set forth standards of conduct expected of advisory personnel (including compliance with state securities laws);
2. safeguard material non-public information about client transactions; and
3. requires "access persons" to report their personal securities transactions. In addition, the activities of an investment adviser and its personnel must comply with the broad antifraud provisions of Section 206 of the Advisers Act, and personal securities transactions must generally be reported under Rule 204-2 under the Advisers Act.

Introduction

As an investment adviser firm, we have an overarching fiduciary duty to our clients. Clients deserve our undivided loyalty and effort, and their interests come first. We have an obligation to uphold this fiduciary duty and see that our personnel do not take inappropriate advantage of their positions and the access to information that comes with their positions. LWM holds their directors, officers, and employees accountable for adhering to and advocating the following general standards to the best of their knowledge and ability:

- Always place the interest of the clients first and never benefit at the expense of advisory clients.
- Always act in an honest and ethical manner, including in connection with, and the handling and avoidance of, actual or potential conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships.

Lawrence Wealth Management LLC

- Always maintain the confidentiality of information concerning the identity of security holdings and financial circumstances of clients.
- Fully comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations of federal, state and local governments and other applicable regulatory agencies.

- Proactively promote ethical and honest behavior with the Adviser, including, without limitation, the prompt reporting of violations of, and being accountable for adherence to, this Code of Ethics.

Failure to comply with the Adviser's Code of Ethics may result in disciplinary action, including termination of employment.

LWM's management buys, sells, and/or holds investments that are also held, purchased or sold by its clients. When transactions are made, IA does not "trade ahead" of our clients.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

LWM has a fiduciary duty to obtain best execution for our clients. We have a non-exclusive arrangement with Charles Schwab which acts as custodian and trading platform. Charles Schwab is a discount securities broker dealer and custodian. We recommend Charles Schwab because of its broad investment platform, including load and no-load mutual funds. No load mutual funds may be purchased through Charles Schwab which charges a transaction fee or commission to effect the transaction. Lawrence Wealth Management does not receive any portion of any transaction fee or commission that Charles Schwab charges clients.

IA requires and Client agrees to open an account with Charles Schwab & Co. Inc (the "Custodian") for the execution of securities transactions and custodial services. IA may receive certain "soft dollar" administrative benefits from the Custodian that enable the IA to provide the Client with advisory services. Client understands that by instructing IA to execute all transactions on behalf of the Account through the Custodian, Client may not necessarily obtain commission rates and execution as favorable as those that would be obtained if IA was able to place transactions with other broker-dealers

Item 13 Review of Accounts

LWM reviews client accounts on a periodic basis to make sure client accounts are allocated appropriately and consistent with clients' goals and risk tolerances. We produce, and make available, client review documents on a quarterly basis which include investment holdings, asset allocation analysis, and investment performance by account. Performance data are presented on an after-fee basis.

Lawrence Wealth Management LLC

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

LWM does not receive any compensation or economic benefit from any referral from a third party.

Item 15 Custody

LWM uses Charles Schwab as the qualified custodian for client assets. LWM has limited power of attorney over client accounts. LWM may execute trades on behalf of accounts and may request disbursement upon client requests. These disbursements are sent directly to clients, payable only to the account registration and to the address on record with the custodian. Only clients have authority to change their address with their custodian.

Investment Advisory fees are paid by clients on a monthly basis. These fees are deducted from client accounts and the funds are transferred to LWM. These fees are agreed upon in writing between LWM and clients through an Investment Advisory contract which is on file.

Since all client funds and securities are maintained with a qualified custodian, we don't take physical possession of client assets. LWM does not accept or maintain physical custody of client funds or securities

However, our firm is deemed to have "constructive custody" of client assets because we deduct fees directly from client accounts. LWM obtains written authorization with a limited power of attorney in the investment advisory agreement which is signed by LWM and the client. LWM will also provide an invoice to the client and to the custodian with the fee calculation.

The custodian delivers monthly account statements reflecting all activity of the account(s), to you or your independent representative. LWM provides quarterly reports to all clients which review all holdings, asset class allocations and account performance, net of fees. LWM urges clients to compare LWM's reports and invoices to the statements issued by the qualified custodian. If you notice any discrepancies, please notify us and/or your custodian as soon as possible.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

LWM manages clients' investments on either a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. LWM makes investment decision and effects trades based on what LWM believes to be in the best interest of clients and aligned with client objectives and risk tolerances.

Discretionary Accounts - LWM makes investment decisions and executes trades on behalf of clients without prior client approval.

Non-discretionary Accounts -LWM makes investment decisions and executes trades on behalf of clients with prior client approval for each transaction.

The custodian issues trade confirmations to the clients immediately after each trade is executed. These confirmations are sent to clients through the United States Postal Service or through email, depending upon client preference.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

LWM does not accept authority to vote proxies on behalf of clients. However, LWM consults with clients regarding proxies. It is the obligation of the client to contact LWM if he/she have any questions regarding proxies

Item 18 Financial Information

LWM does not require or solicit prepayment of fees in excess of $1,200 for six months or more. Therefore, there is no requirement to file a balance sheet with this brochure.

There are no financial factors that would impair LWM's ability to meet contractual obligations.
